

THE CURA NETWORK CARING FOR STUDENTS IN NEED

Office of the Dean of Students

A large, diverse crowd of students is gathered outdoors, likely at a university event. In the background, a sign reads "WELCOME TO LOYOLA". The students are dressed in casual attire, and the atmosphere appears to be one of a large-scale gathering or celebration.

CURA NETWORK

In the spirit of cura personalis, a hallmark of Ignatian spirituality that urges us to care for the entire person, the CURA Network is a university-wide system that centralizes referrals, reports, and response for students who are in need of care.

The best way to help a student is to report a student concern as soon as possible.

Referrals allow staff to explore the complete picture and respond with the appropriate support. Upon receiving a report, staff work with campus partners to provide intervention, support, advocacy, case management, and resource referrals to our students.

Hunger and food insecurity affect thousands of individuals and families around the country every day. The LUC Food Pantries are dedicated to providing support to LUC students impacted by food insecurity. Our goal is to support each student's academic journey by ensuring they have the nourishment they need to succeed.

Students are welcome to shop in-person weekly to get 2-3 days worth of food. We provide mainly shelf stable products at no cost to visitors.

For more information, please contact the CURA Network via the Office of the Dean of Students.

DISCRIMINATION AND SEXUAL MISCONDUCT CONCERNS

The University's response to all allegations of discrimination, sexual misconduct (including Title IX), or equity-based retaliation is coordinated by the Office for Equity & Compliance (OEC). For incidents involving students, the Office of the Dean of Students provides resources, supportive measures, and assistance navigating the University's investigation and/or other response. Most University faculty and staff employees are "responsible campus partners" with an obligation to report in specific instances.
