1

Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine is an accredited provider of AMA PRA Category 1 credit.

2

Loyola uses the CME platform CME Tracker. Create an account by clicking the button below and once more on the new screen:

SIGN IN

then select 'Create Account'.

3

Complete your Online Profile and click 'Save Profile', then click 'Continue'. Your account is now active. To view current activity information, click the choices in the black box on the left side of your screen.

4

When you attend an activity, you will be given a 4-digit code. Once you either text in this code from your phone or enter it through your portal, your credit will be awarded.

5

This Learner Guide provides details for using your account, including how-to's for setting up text-in attendance, self-generating your transcripts and recording outside credit.

We look forward to working with you to meet your learner needs.

Our website is under construction, but we will continue to add information and resources to the site.
